MEMORIES ...LIKE THE CORNERS OF MY MIND,

Misty, water-colored memories,
of the way we were,

Scattered pictures,
of the smiles we left behind.

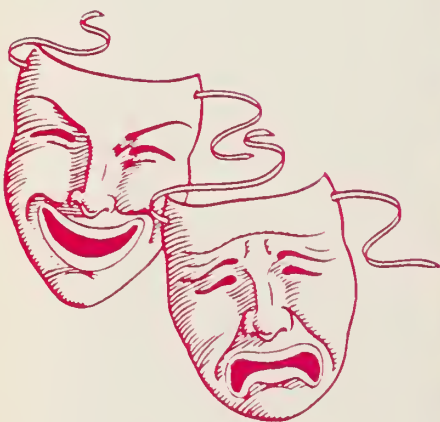

Smiles we gave to one another,
of the way we were.

Could it be that life was oh, so simple then?
or has time rewritten every line?

If we had the chance to do it all again,
Would we? Could we?

Memories . . .
may be beautiful and yet . . .

What's too painful to remember,
we simply should forget.

Cause it's the LAUGHTER,
We will REMEMBER,

WHENEVER WE REMEMBER,

THE WAY WE WERE . . .

Dedication

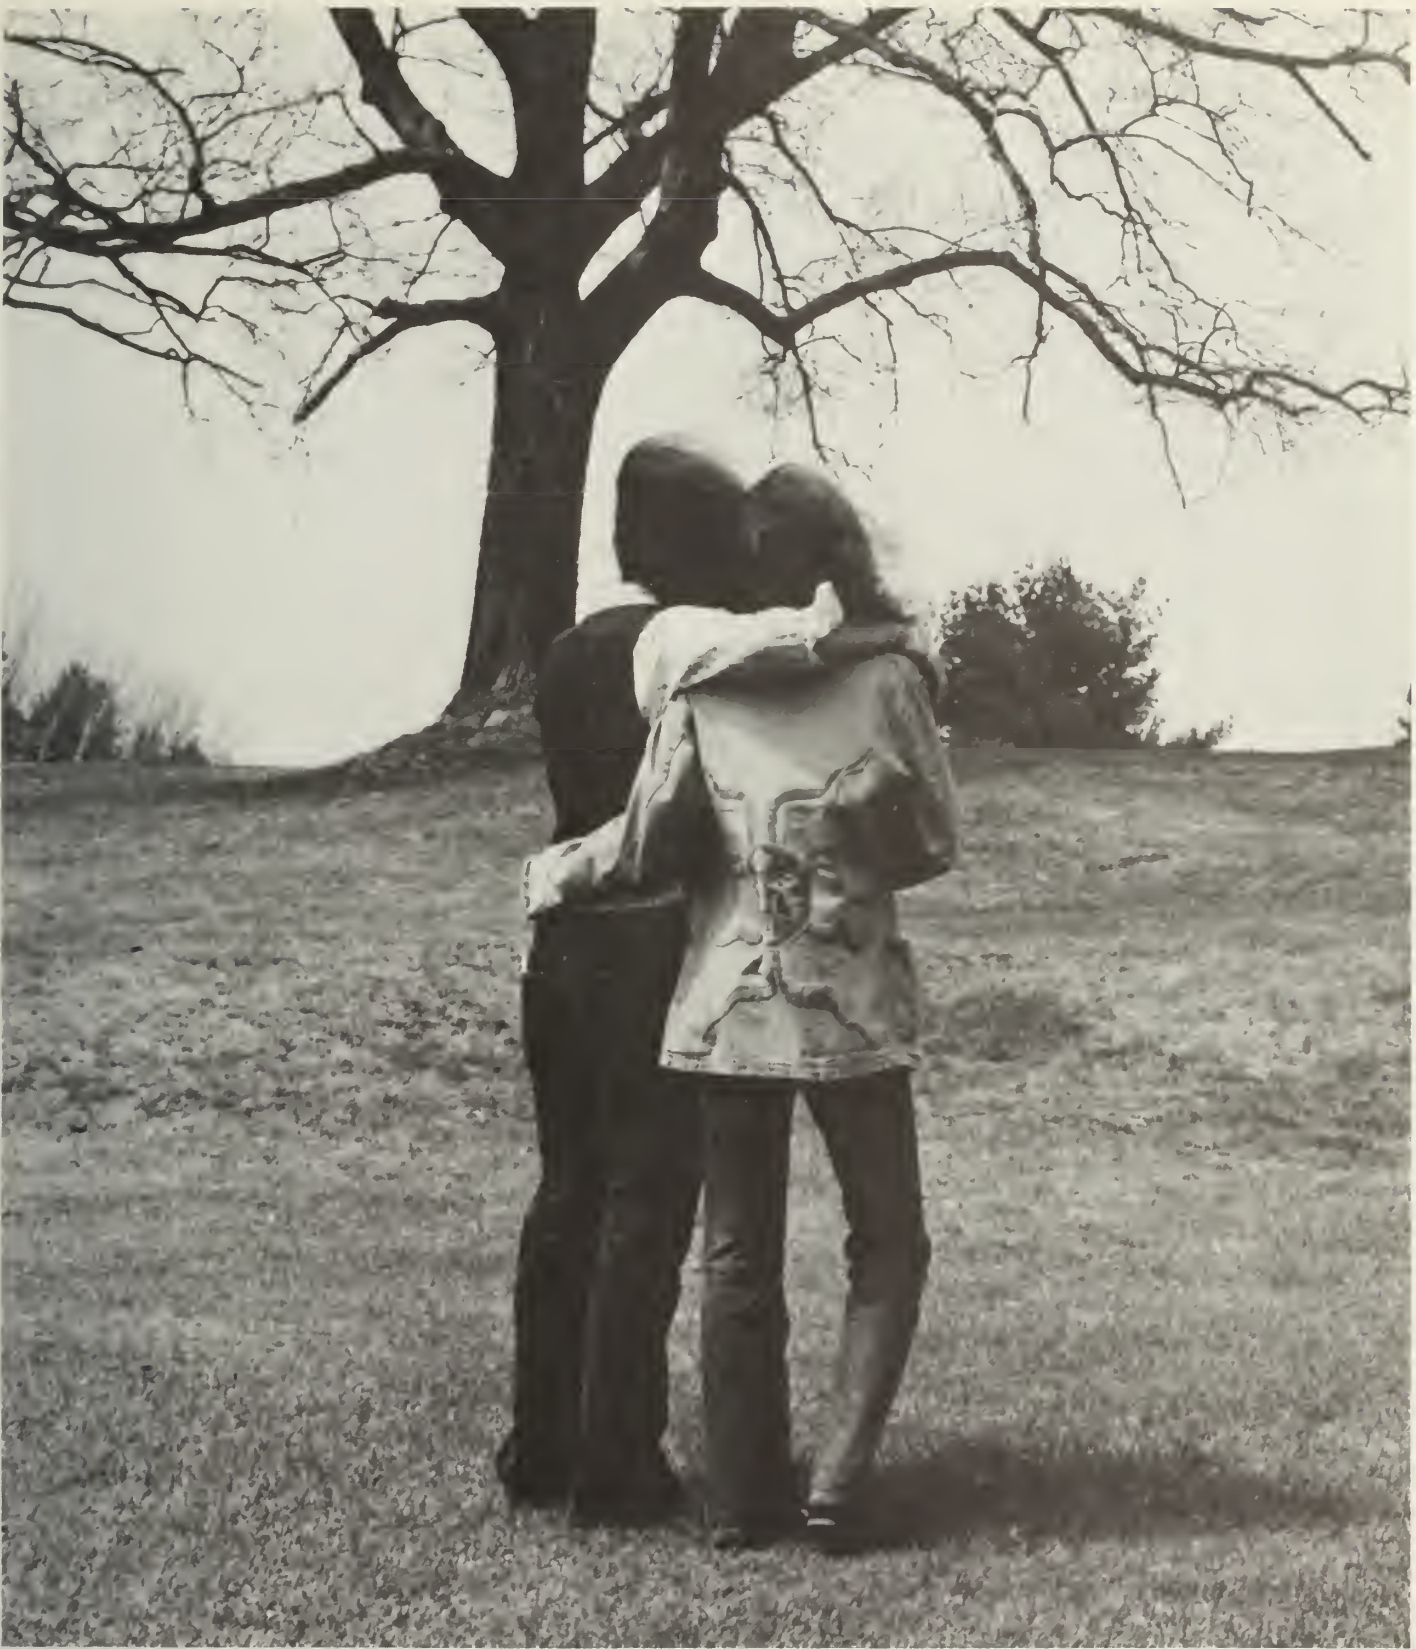

"Education does not mean teaching people what they do not know ... It is a painful, continual and difficult work to be done by warning, by precept, and by praise; but above all by example."

Ruskin

Certainly an example of a man dedicated to providing quality education is our own Superintendent-Director William Collins. Mr. Collins shows a keen interest in everything pertaining to our school. He is ever-ready to assist members of the staff and student body in problems that are encountered. His supervision is inspirational to us all. Indeed, Mr. Collins enhances the stature of Greater Lowell Regional by instilling the seeds of thought into the impressionable minds of those who know him.

Just as we salute the class of 1977, we salute you, Mr. Collins, on your first year as Superintendent-Director. Like our 1977 graduates, our hope is that you "have only just begun."

MESSAGE FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT — DIRECTOR WILLIAM J. COLLINS 1976-77

"In a time often characterized by troubled youth, uncertain of their future and unsure of what career path to follow, understanding where you are going and how you will support yourself is a most important step in knowing who you really are. For most of your life, people have been leading you, telling you what is good for you, making an effort to help you have a better life than the one they experienced; but often times this is misunderstood and interpreted as rejection. It is no wonder that some young people often feel so badly about themselves since the negative is often emphasized by their parents, relatives, teachers and authorities. Unable to feel good about anything they do, they give up trying to improve or give up altogether.

Everyone sometimes sees the important people in their lives as asking them to do things that they themselves won't or can't accomplish. It's usually because of concern for how things should be that demands are placed on you. You have lived these past years in an ideal place, a place where perfection is sought but seldom attained. Then suddenly, upon graduation, you are hurled into a different life. The world of "don't" quickly changes into the world of "do" and the problem of "what to do" replaces the cries of "what not to do" by your parents, teachers and others.

You suddenly find many people that make more mistakes in a day than you made in your twelve years of school, and eventually you find you are not so bad after all! So don't give up. You already know you're a mechanic, carpenter, hairdresser, commercial artist, electrician, baker, cook, plumber, printer or nurse's aide . . . You are a highly skilled person that knows where you're going and how to finance your goals and dreams. You're one of the best trained technicians in your age group. You're more employable than most of your counterparts. So go out into the world of work prepared to use your education to continue learning."

In Memoriam

Charles P. Conlon

Who among our family, at this institution, has not been diminished by the death of "Charlie" Conlon. For over thirty years he educated the tradespeople of our community. His entire professional life was involved in helping the vocational student pursue his goals. For the major part of his career, he worked in the particular area of education that was considered the "poor sister", by his community and his fellow educators. He devoted his life to an area that many people pretended did not exist, until it became vogue to be a vocational educator during the last few years. He and his colleagues, many times, worked in the face of adversity to bring a special education to special people. He believed in this form of education and made it work.

Because of this, his life was a success. Because everyone loved him, his life was even more successful.

"Guess who holds thee?"
"Death!" I said. But there the silver answer rang —
"Not Death but Love."

The rhetoric heard around most school districts always mentions the fact that the Teachers, Administration, School Committee and Staff are all working together for the common goal of educating the student. Tragically, this is all too frequently untrue. But, we at the Regional School do honestly work together to give our students the very best academic education and vocational training possible. That is why this year we present a yearbook which may more accurately be called, our family portrait.

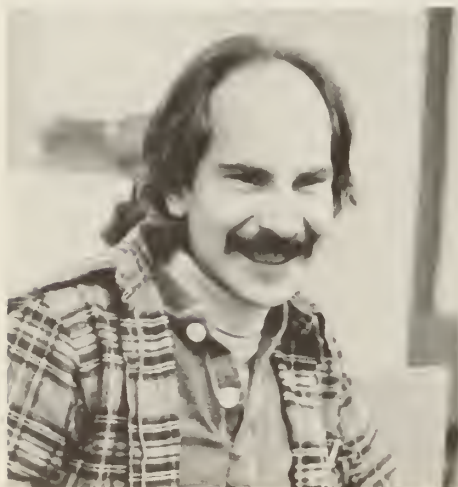

We hope that you will share with us in our family album those highlights and movements which meant so much to us during this year.

Happy New Year and Why We Think It Will Be

1976 was a year of progress for the economies of Chelmsford, Lowell, Billerica, Dracut and Tewksbury. And, judging from our increasing deposits and business activity, our customers share our confidence that 1977 will be even better.

During 1976, deposits grew by 10.6% and assets by 9.7% — to top a four-year asset growth of 146.8% since December 31, 1972.

We also prepared ourselves, in 1976, to play an even greater role in 1977. New services, such as residential mortgages, are now available. New employee training programs and more sophisticated computer programs will help every First Banker to help you more. And our participation in community revitalization programs in Lowell and in Chelmsford—including the proposed renovation of the historic Fiske home in Central Square, Chelmsford, plus new parking and drive-up teller facilities—will make them happier places to have a happy New Year in.

Thanks, again, for your confidence in us. And for your part in making the years past, and the years ahead, a most satisfying experience.

Edward S. Redstone
for The First Bankers

The "Wet Look" That Lasts

A Beautiful Long-Lasting Paint for . . .

- Cars
- Trucks
- Aircraft

Stan Kay of Blue Seal Feed shakes hands with Don Kennett as they admire the newly painted fleet truck.
The 10 yr. old truck looks brand new!

It's Dupont's new "polyurethane Enamel" — the most durable finish on the market! Costs a little more but lasts twice as long. The "wet look" finish keeps its shine wash after wash, therefore making cleaning much easier. It also resists peeling and fading! Choose from over 1000 new colors.
